Retired Admiral Returns To Ohio City of Boyhood

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., June 7—Rear Admiral Orin G. Murfin has come back to the town where as a boy he watched river boats ply the Ohio's muddy waters and dreamed of gray navy battleships and handsome white uniforms.

For three-fourths of his life Admiral Murfin has been with Uncle Sam's sea warriors and attained a linear rank exceeded by only two men in the entire navy—Admirals J. C. Hart and A. J. Hepburn—both members of his class of 1897 at Annapolis.

Now he and Mrs. Murfin are in Portsmouth, renewing old acquaintances and deciding where they'll make their home, for the navy veteran has reached the compulsory retirement age of 64.

Slender, pleasant Admiral Murfin's last assignment was as commandant of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, the fleet's "Pacific home." He ranks the island naval base as one of the best-protected fleet centers in the world—even above the powerful British base at Singapore which he inspected during his command of the Asiastic fleet.

His admiration for U. S. seapower extends much further. "The navy's better than ever before," he maintains.

The emphasis on air power in the current European conflict doesn't mean an eventual decline in importance of the fighting fleet, in Murfin's opinion. The "doom" of the navy was forecast when mines and submarines were first introduced, he recalls—and vividly—for he won the distinguished service medal in World war days for sowing 57,000 mines across the North sea to catch German raiders. The navy found reasonably effective defenses for mines and U-boats, he said, and will do the same for planes.

Veritzen s Pompous and Absurd Actions Amuse the Young People

LUNCHEON proved to be rather a tense affair although Lillian and Harry Underwood with Dicky did their best—and their best is very good indeed—to keep the conversational ball rolling in the lighter strata of emotional ether But though Philip Veritzen and Queen Olga are too poised to betray their real feelings they said very little while Noel Mary and Olina did not play up as well as they usually do in social emergencies

As for me I was too distraught for either food or conversation but I made a desperate pretense at eating the first and joining in the second But I fear my nibblings and chatter were unconvincing and I was glad indeed when Katie s really delicious luncheon—to which despite their disturbed emotions most of them did ample justice—came to an end

It so happened that those of us whom Philip Veritzen had said he wished to see in the library were the only ones save Olga and Olina at the luncheon table In order to keep the children as much as possible from the lower floor Katharine ate in the nursery with them while Miss Whitlock engineered trays for my father my mother-in law for Edith Fairfax and for herself

Queen Olga Objects

Thus it was that when Mr Veritzen rose from the table he had his library audience ready for he lost no time in announcing that Olga and her mother were to be members of the conference

Will it be convenient for all of you to come to the library now he asked I suppose he added that Mrs Graham has acquainted you with my wish to see you for an explanation and some questions and I already have asked Queen Olga and her daughter to come with us

The exiled queen of Transylvania gave him a reproachful look, softened by a mirthful smile

'Please Philip she said don't call me that again

He looked at her with an expression that was as near an embarrassed one as I ever had seen him wear Harry Underwood who has no awe in his soul for royalty in fact or in the theater and who has known Philip Veritzen for many years chuckled audibly

Don t worry Phil" he said "In a few weeks you can refer to her as the missis and all your troubles will be over

The great impresario started to frown but he unknitted his brows again as Olga laughed merrily

"I am looking forward to that" she said mischievously and Philip Veritzen smiled fatuously at her

Shall we lead the way back to the library he said bowing to her and offering her his arm in courtly fashion

I am honored she told him merrily as she took his arm and turned with him toward the door With the gravest of faces below impishly dancing eyes Harry Underwood and Dicky bowed and offered their arms to Lillian and me and we swung in behind them I heard a surprised giggle from Mary and a following one from Olina and was glad the girl realized that her future stepfather and not her mother was the subject of her really innocent and kindly mirth

Noel you re in luck! Harry Underwood drawled We hain t got but one woman apiece while you draw down two

I am deeply aware of my good fortune Noel said laughing as he brought up the rear of our absurd little procession with his wife and Olina on either arm

When we reached the library Mr Veritzen seated us all ceremoniously in a semi-circle facing him He did not sit down himself and as he let his gaze rest upon each of us for a fleeting instant I suddenly had the sense of something portentous in the air

FRIDAY JUNE 7 1940

For Example

APPROVAL by foreign relations committees of both houses of a resolution opposing transfer of any region in the new world to a non American nation marks an essential first step in seizing the initiative in defense of this hemisphere

Prime essential in any overt aggression in this hemisphere would be military bases Congressional approval of a policy opposed to transfer of territory merely establishes beyond possibility of doubt that military policy will call for opposition to any attempt to do this in the guise of reaping the rewards of victory in Europe It is in other words a legal background for a decision the United States navy might be called on to make suddenly

War of Nerves' New Phase

IT WAS not to be imagined that governments capable of inventing the war of nerves in preparation for actual conflict would abandon the device when fighting started Their victims had proved too tempting to enjoy a truce

Italy's use of suspense which has kept an Italian declaration of war imminent for at least two weeks is a major triumph of attack on French and British morale The long awaited bombing of London which Britain has been encouraged to fear ever since the tenuous settlement at Munich still is imminent too

There is no secret about the hoped for effect of such suspense It is to demoralize the enemy with his own imagination easily capable of conjuring up worse horrors than even mechanized warfare can produce in reality Effect of Italy's entrance into the war and of mass air raids on London will be extremely grave but probably less grave than the visions searing themselves into the minds of Frenchmen and Englishmen

The ultimate purpose of this shrewd use of psychology is to destroy the enemy's will to resist If the Allies were to employ the same technique they would be planting in Germany the idea that another abortive attempt to dominate Europe will result in extermination of the entire German population Allied technique, however, has called for reasonable appeals to Germans to rid themselves of Adolf Hitler and be saved—an illustration of the perhaps too civilized attitude which has enabled Germany to invade France and Belgium twice in a lifetime while France was preparing to defend itself and Belgium was beguiling its fears with hopes of an iron clad neutrality

Too Much To Expect

IT IS too much to expect but not too much to demand that New Dealers temper their whirlwind ideas of reform to the shorn lamb

At the outset of their regime in Washington they insisted whenever the question was raised that reform was entitled to precedence over recovery It is only natural that now they should believe that reform still should get the nod over government's new project improvement of the nation's military resources

This is not because New Dealers are any less patriotic than their critics but because by the nature of their role as members of the group in political power they are bound to try to perpetuate their influence over government They are the helpless victims of one of the oldest tendencies in government—the urge to hang on till pried loose

France had the experience of sacrificing national defense to a reform government during the premiership of Leon Blum In Great Britain national defense lagged under the conservative government of Neville Chamberlain It was not till actual emergencies appeared that the two great representative democracies of Europe were able to put aside everything which did not bear directly on the problem at hand—the coming test of strength to decide the question of their survival

New Dealers insofar as they prove unable to subordinate their reform projects wherever necessary to expedite production for preparedness, will find themselves on the wrong side of the fence as far as public opinion is concerned

Too Sound To Scuttle

TWO things about taxes are certain They will be boosted They will hurt

It would be bad policy to make them needlessly painful in any one area That would be the effect of a flat increase in income taxes, perhaps accompanied by a general lowering of tax brackets to bring in incomes now exempt.

Under a flat 10 per cent increase, a man now paying $500 would pay $50 more whereas a man now paying $80 would pay $8 more But the income taxed for $500 is large, while the income taxed for $8 is small The first can bear $50 much easier than the second can bear $8 The larger income should be taxed more heavily than the smaller one

This is the principle of a graduated income tax It is too sound to scuttle Taxes should be levied according to ability to pay.

News Behind the News

Gen Marshall Regards Venezuela as Chief Fifth Column Danger Spot

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON June 7 — In private session with the house military affairs committee straight sighted General Marshall the chief of staff designated as the chief fifth column danger spot in Latin America a nation which has not been publicly mentioned—Venezuela

The Germans have a military interest there in the most essential of all all Allied war supplies oil The Allies have been drawing heavily on their own British and French holdings there since Mussolini has been acting up in the Mediterranean and forcing them to extend their line of Mesopotamian supply around the Cape of Good Hope If the Germans wanted to strike a blow at the Allies in this hemisphere the Venezuelan - Colombian oil fields and their related refining outlet in the Netherlands island of Aruba are the major spots in which they could do most damage

The properties are protected

only by company police inadequate even to cope with organized saboteurs The Allies landed small marine units at the Aruban refineries when Holland fell but there are no other forces anywhere near this strategically valuable area except ours in the canal zone

National Guard

Mr Roosevelt's proposal to cloak himself with authority to call out the National Guard sounded rather reasonable and unwarlike as Marshall explained it to the committee in confidence He assumed these and other Latin-American nations might find their own forces inadequate to cope with possible local disturbances and therefore might be expected to call upon the United States for minor military assistance Most Latin armies are mere police forces In that case detachments would have to be sent from the regular army and the national guard would merely be called up to take the assignments of the departing troops in this country

Marshall did not go beyond that explanation but reports in other quarters expanded the suggestion Competent diplomatic sources have heard Mr Roosevelt has a personal understanding with Brazil whereby United States military help could be called for This is neither confirmed nor denied by officials here

Political Hot Spots

Other Latin danger spots are mostly political and could have no immediate military interest to Germany or Italy They are Montevideo, French Guiana and southern Mexico These cooperate least with the United States The nations which have been working closely with us are Brazil Venezuela Colombia Ecuador and the Central American Republics

Germany has been shipping field guns and machine guns to the government of Brazil lately under a contract signed before the war started The shipments have been routed through Italy

Hitler even under the pressure of war must have amazing stores of material An international arms salesman here recently told government authorities the Germans actually tried to sell the British machine guns on the eve of the war The British had a contract with Skoda before the German occupation and continued the receive guns from the Czechoslovakian works after German occupation When conflict deliveries were complete the German management of Skoda wrote the British admiralty and suggested more guns could be furnished if the British wanted any

Big Loophole

The obscure loophole in the RFC bill through which the administration may circumvent the Johnson act and give credits to the Allies is turning out to be as large as a Trans Atlantic tunnel

Through it this government could give the French and British ultimate credits of over $500 - 000 000 to a billion dollars Certainly $200 000 000 could be thus advanced in a year without overexertion

The last paragraph of the complicated bill authorizes payment in advance on purchases of raw material futures to be delivered perhaps six months a year or more hence The money could be spent immediately by the Allies to purchase either farm products or manufactured materials in this country

Thus this is credit bearing no interest It can be advanced to any foreign government and in quantities limited only by the unlimited domestic borrowing powers of RFC

Is Rubber On Way Out?

Magazine Says Synthetics Coming to Fore

POSSIBLE shortage of rubber seems to cause more popular concern than any other economic consequence of war perhaps because so many Americans are aware of the vital importance of automobile tires and tubes

Fortune magazine discussing the possibility in its current issue declares that if war should cut off America's crude rubber supply from the East Indies $30, 000 000 in research in a year would enable the country to reach the point of self-sufficiency in synthetic rubber

Fact of the matter is Fortune says eventual replacement of most natural rubber is in the cards regardless of the war because the dynamics of the vast new frontier of synthetics has now largely passed from chemistry into the far more crucial area of plain economics and economies Rubber is in transition The synthetics are opening what may be the greatest technological phase in the rubber industry's history Wherever special qualities like oil or corrosion resistance come into play the synthetics have been bowling over the stiffest price competition

Synthetic rubbers are produced from common basic materials Koroseal which the Goodrich Co. is producing at the rate of 25 000 lbs a day is essentially coke limestone and salt Goodrich could in short order Fortune declare produce enough Koroseal to replace rubber in many of its products without going outside of Ohio for raw materials

FIRST of the practical synthetics was duPont's Dupreme and later Neopreme Before that there was Thiokol manufactured by Dow Chemical but with limited uses because of its odor and low tensile strength Standard Oil Co has acquired sole manufacturing rights in the United States for Buna developed in Germany

From being used only in tires and mats, rubber has worked its way into more than 300 parts of the modern automobile, Fortune explains More rubber per car goes into accessories like weather stripping and bumper guards than into tires The industry builds tires so well that sales have been flattening and it has taken to its laboratories in search for new products to maintain volume As an example of new products Fortune cites latex development which eliminates a long series of steps in ordinary rubber production and has sent latex imports soaring from almost nothing in 1922 to more than 11 - 000 000 lbs in 1932 and to more than five times that much by 1939

AMERICAN Anode the magazine says has developed a process of spraying latex on silk stockings which doubles their wear and may well become one of the silk trade's answers to Nylon the du Pont product Another newly developed use for rubber is a substitute for automobile springs employing a hollow inutal cylinder in which a shaft set in rubber absorbs bounces — a spring with no bearings spring seats or moving parts to squeak or to lubricate

OLD MAN OF THE SEA, 1940

Men Without Countries

Ambassadors of Conquered Nations Still Put on Show for U S

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON June 7 — The nation's capital rapidly is becoming a city of embassies without a country

In embassy lane—Massachusetts avenue—marble villa after brick chateau is pointed out to visiting firemen as the embassy of a land that is no more and in many of them live men who really are men without countries

There are six embassies here of lands which have been absorbed by Germany or captured by the Nazis and subjected to a government domination that leaves their ambassadors not knowing for whom they speak nor to whom they owe allegiance

Jack Stinnett

The Czechoslovakian flag still flies over the residence of Vladimir Hurban and Mr Hurban still comes and goes on the business of his state but where is that state today?

Count Jerzy Potocki still is His Excellency when he enters a Washington drawing room and his 16th street palace still is the recognized center of Polish activity in the United States, but where is Poland? At last report it was in Angers France a strange place for Poland to be as any geography pupil could tell you

Count Robert van der Straten-Ponthoz who also lives on the great avenue of nations represents a nation torn asunder—Belgium His cabinet and council is in Paris and has not given up his king who appointed him has and the United States which recognizes his credentials refuses to recognize the conquest of the nation that sent him here

Ministers in Doubt

Mr Henrik de Kauffmann's status theoretically has not changed for he is Washington's minister from Denmark—but the status of his country has. When the minister receives an order from Copenhagen today how can he know whether it comes from the government that appointed him or from some Nazi overlord?

Dr A Loudon is another man whose daily problems must cause sleepless nights Queen Wilhelmina to whom by oath he owes his all and her government are in London and Arthur Seyss-Inquart the Austrian Nazi leader is in supreme command of all the civil functions of the Netherlands

In a similar plight is Wilhelm Munthe de Morgenstierne the minister from Norway The great lobe of the country that he represents and by far the most important section of it from a standpoint of population and industry is in German hands At some place which he may know but which the world at large doesn't is King Haakon and the Norwegian government Report has it that Mr Morgenstierne himself doesn't know where they are and is in contact with his king only through the embassy in London

These are the ambassadors and ministers still active in Washington in behalf of their saddled or conquered countries There is another one whose official status has been turned inside out by recent European upheavals

He Teaches and Dreams

Dr Edgar L G Prochnik whose Austria was among the first to go down the Nazi maw is teaching at Georgetown university Outwardly he has given up —retired from foreign service— but privately he works and dreams of the day when his land will be free again

The same undoubtedly could be said for all these other men without countries but the fact that some still owe allegiance to nations who openly welcomed the Nazis with outstretched arms makes it impossible for them officially to admit anything but that their governments acted wisely and well

Veteran of these struggles to free little lands from vassalage is Mr Potocki who started working for Polish independence 35 years ago when he was 16 years old and now takes up where he left off when the World war struck the shackles from his country

The social status of these ambassadors without a country is unchanged Washington still recognizes them as representatives of the nations that appointed them They still call almost daily at the state department and report or confer on the affairs of the world

But behind the scenes they rapidly are becoming the state department's problem children Refusing to recognize a conquest is one thing but when you have to straighten out the affairs of Americans and the United States government in a conquered land that's another

There were indications that although Republican leaders in Chicago for the national convention were split on the choice of a presidential candidate they were rapidly approaching an agreement on a platform that would be agreeable to all elements of the party Senator Borah of Idaho and Senator Watson of Indiana conferred on a League of Nations plank It was understood Borah militant leader of the senate irreconcilables, flatly informed Watson that an unqualified reaffirmation of the doctrines of Washington and Monroe regarding entangling foreign alliances would have to be written into the Republican platform in language that would leave no doubt as to its meaning and intent

War

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—Street Scene Out from a gateway of the war ministry near the Landwehr Canal shuffle seven Polish prisoners, still wearing their khaki military uniforms.

Behind them comes a Prussian guard carrying his rifle

The soldiers set about repairing the street in front of the building

A pretty girl walks by and the guard rests his gun against a fence while he talks to her

Presently the rifle slips to the ground with a clatter The guard ignores it.

A prisoner picks it up carries it over to him and placidly goes back to picking at the road.

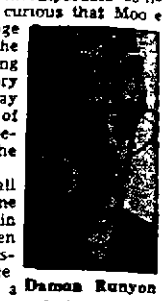
Eddie Cantor

He Got a Break Once, Now He Gives Some to Others.

By DAMON RUNYON

THE OTHER night we attended an advance performance of Louisiana Purchase. This is a musical comedy that opened formally the following night Dramatic critics gave it what we thought were well deserved raves.

It is swell entertainment We almost busted our girdle laughing at that incomparable comedian Victor Moore It is curious that Moore can be so funny on the stage when you remember that he gave the most heartbreaking performance in movie history in a picture called Make Way For Tomorrow I was one of those classics that did not return a quarter in profit by the way



Damon Runyon

Billy Gaxton slickest of all our slick actors and always one of our favorites is also in Louisiana Purchase Then there is a blonde girl of vast assurance named Carol Bruce whom we heard warbling in a spot down in Dade county Fla only last winter Overnight she is a show stopper We think this must somehow redound to the credit of Dade county and shall so inform the Committee of 100

BUT HERE we are drifting away from the thought we had in mind when we started out The advance performance of "Louisiana Purchase was for the benefit of the Eddie Cantor Boys Camp an enterprise which gives the underprivileged kids of the big city summer vacations in the country

It is Eddie Cantor we wish to discuss He was present at the advance performance of course and he made a neat little speech from the stage in which he announced that the evening had produced $14 000 for the camp

The seats sold up to $50 each and the house was packed We hasten to add that this is not the regular box office scale for Louisiana Purchase The camp organization bought out the house at the box office figures then resold the seats to friends of the movement. We judge it was pretty much of a personal tribute to Eddie Cantor

As a kid on the lower east side of Manhattan Island child of a poor family Eddie was once sent to a summer camp by an organization devoted to the welfare of underprivileged children As we visualize the Cantor of those days he must have been a tiny painfully thin youngster whose face was all eyes Big popeyes.

Or perhaps his eyes were normal enough when he went to the camp but acquired the permanent pop now familiar to the theater and picture public as a result of viewing the wonders of country life It is strange what events of childhood remain in the mind of maturity Eddie Cantor never forgot that little outing It seems to have been treasured in his memory as a rare privilege of his boyhood

WHEN he became a star on Broadway and began making money hand over fist, he organized a similar camp of his own He has been carrying on this work for years, often at considerable expense to himself and without ostentation It appears to be the greatest of his life

Kids who live in small towns with the country coming right up to the city limits, and who say always see the waving fields and hear the song of birds may marvel that there are youngsters anywhere who might consider these rustic scenes and sounds worthwhile

But in the teeming centers of population of New York there are thousands—yes, millions—of boys to whom the woods and the hills and the trees are a dream that they can realize only through such organizations as that fostered by Eddie Cantor and others It is a fine work that these vacation camps are doing

EDDIE CANTOR at 47 and a proud grandfather remains a star He seems to be picking up a little weight in those spots ever favored by 47 years and his once coal black hair is now tinted with gray But he has lost none of that effervescence which has always characterized his work His devotion to his beloved Ida and the other girls of his family his lack of ostentation and his balance in good times and bad are traits familiar to his friends.

We always liked Cantor as an actor Now that we have learned a little more about his memory for what he used to be we like him twice as much as a man

Anecdotes of Ohio

By GILBERT F DODDS

Three men of good pioneer families died because of the arbitrary decision of a tyrannical officer at Fort Hamilton in the fall of 1792

Advance corps were stationed at various frontier forts prior to Gen Anthony Wayne's famous Ohio Indian campaign and three men—Seth Blinn John Brown and a man named Gallaher—deserted They were captured court martialed and sentenced to be hanged

A friend of the three condemned men hastened to Fort Washington where he obtained a pardon from Gen James Wilkerson. He returned too late because the commandant, Major Randolph, had ordered the men hung the day after their trial Upon learning of the circumstances, Gen. Wayne gave Randolph the choice of resigning or being cashiered

Randolph resigned He purchased a vessel and went into the trading business. It was reported later that he had been captured by an Algerian cruiser and was hung from his own yardarm.

Rolling Stones Make House

By The Associated Press

HOUSTON Tex —The home of Mr and Mrs. H P Teague is a geologist's dream It is built of petrified wood and trimmed with stones from every state in the union except North Carolina, as well as France, Germany England, Belgium, Mexico and the South Seas.

Teague said he was determined to build a home different and original We decided on a stone house and began gathering odd rocks with which to trim it. Friends learned of our hobby and soon we had a garage full of rocks.

One summer we ran across a petrified wood dealer in Stephenville Tex., and decided that a house built of that material would be the answer to our problem.

The Teagues still receive stones from persons who have heard of the unique home They hope some day to receive one from North Carolina.

Urges Early Teaching of Deaf

By The Associated Press

STATE COLLEGE, Pa —New studies of deaf children by Dr Harold Westlake of Pennsylvania State College have caused him to recommend that they be placed in school earlier than is the customary practice

Deaf children, Dr Westlake contends, can speak many words which they cannot hear It would be much easier to teach the deafened child speech between the ages of two and five when the child still is babbling than it is to wait until he is about seven or eight years old as we do now ' he says.

START CONSTRUCTION ON APARTMENT HERE

Four-Family Building Planned on Mt. Vernon Avenue.

Plans for the construction of a four-family apartment on Mt. Vernon avenue, between Elm and Forest streets, became known this week with issuance of a building permit to Mr and Mrs D. L. Stout of 365 Brightwood drive. Cost of the construction is listed on the permit at $10,000.

Building plans were prepared by Charles W. Oborn, architect, of 244 Windsor street. They call for a structure of solid brick with dimensions of 42 by 44 feet and also construction of a four-stall garage. The apartment will be completely modern, air-conditioned and each unit will consist of living, dining and bedrooms, tiled baths and modern kitchens.

Excavation work was begun this week at the site, which is on the north side of Mt. Vernon avenue. The work will require about five months and the building will be ready for occupancy in November, according to plans.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. LOGAN C. CLENDENING

Tip to an Insomniac

"I have a great deal of sympathy for you," said my old friend, Dr. Adrian Gibbs, to a patient the other day. "Personal sympathy. There was a time in my life for a while when I couldn't sleep and I honestly do not believe that physical pain is any more torture than lying awake hour after hour in the darkness and the stillness with a perfectly blank mind.

"But there is no rhyme or reason to insomnia. You take a fellow who hasn't got a thing to do—too lazy to get a job—isn't interested in work anyway and doesn't need to refresh himself, and he sleeps like der alte Barbarossa—all night for eight or nine hours and naps in the daytime too.

"I took to sleeping powders, but I gave up. We have some very efficient sleeping medicines now—the various barbiturates — the things whose names end in 'al.' They're much better than the old ones. And I think they're pretty harmless, although there are warnings against them—for anybody with any sense they don't form a habit. I took them for a while and they got me back into the practice of sleep. Then I found when I was going to bed that I would take one just in case. And that's when they began to show their faults—they kept you awake too much! That is the real trouble with the modern sleeping tablets.

"I forgot to take mine one night and I had the most delicious night's rest I had had for a year—so I stopped them, bang off, and never felt any need for them or withdrawal symptoms. The trouble is they keep you wide awake for an hour or two, then they put you to sleep with a bang, and then you wake up in about four or six hours—and I mean, you wake up—with a bang. Without them you add about two hours of nice dozing that is probably the best part of the night's rest.

"With you and your insomnia though I am going to tell you something. I put a kind of detective on your insomnia when I had you in the hospital making those 'studies' and I find that with your insomnia go to sleep about four hours solid and two hours fitful a night and that's enough for anyone. I read an article by a lady insomniac the other day on 'The technique of lying awake.' She allowed as how it was an inescapable adventure to be allowed to lie awake and we should make the most out of it by trying to remember cities that begin with A.

"Well, you're not very good at that technique. Look at you! You can't be suffering much from your insomnia. You are as fat and smooth as a pink little piglet. Your eyes are as bright, and you are mentally alert

"Insomnia is wakefulness plus worry. Quit complaining about your insomnia. And take a nap every afternoon. Sleep is a habit. The more you get, the more you need."

Immigrant Couple To See Last of 5 Sons Get Degree

By The Associated Press

OXFORD, O., June 7—Next Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Chappars will complete a job they set out to do 37 years ago.

In 1903, Steve left his young bride in Greece and came to America. He arrived in New York with less than a dollar but he had infinite faith in his ability to make his way.

Before he left Greece he and his wife decided that their children—and they wanted a large family in the Greek tradition—should have a college education.

Hercules, the youngest of their five sons, will be graduated Monday morning from Miami university where four brothers have preceded him.

The oldest, Michael, who was graduated in 1925, is curator of paleontology at the Oriental Institute in Chicago; Peter, who finished in 1931, is an employe at the Oxford postoffice; Gregory, graduated in 1932, is a recreational director in Hamilton; George, who gained his diploma in 1934, is editor of a trade publication (Armco) in Middletown; Hercules is prepared for teaching.

It hasn't been easy for Mr. and Mrs. Chappars. Mrs. Chappars joined her husband in Oxford in 1907, where they have operated a restaurant. Both had trouble with language; the hustle of American business methods never has been easy for them.

But through fat and lean years they never wavered in their determination to give their five sons a college education. Monday the job will be completed.

PLAYERS TOUGH AS EVER

Bill Klem, who has been sassed by experts, insists modern ball players are just about as w and cantankerous as the timers despite their dude cl and fancy manners with knife fork. He calls the 1914 Bra the most spirited club he saw.

SLATER ON STAND IN BELLEFONTAINE TRIAL

By The Associated Press

BELLEFONTAINE O June 7 —The state strove today to show that Donald Slater planned the slaying of Fred Jenkins but the 18-year-old defendant insisted I don't remember

He was subjected to nearly two hours more cross examination after testifying he'd struck the 51 year old Huntsville telegrapher once with a claw hammer in a quarrel at the Jenkins home

Slater admitted that neither he nor Mrs Jenkins was in quite our right mind after the woman's husband was slain

Slater Mrs Jenkins and the woman's son Merlin 18 are charged with first degree murder The mother and son will be tried later

After Slater testified he did not recall what happened to the hammer with which he hit Jenkins the state produced a hammer Prosecutor J Ewing Smith tried unsuccessfully to show that Slater saw Merlin Jenkins turn it over to officers the day they were arrested It was found in the Jenkins kitchen

The hammer allegedly used in the slaying was found north of Troy near blankets in which Jenkins body had been wrapped

Slater testified yesterday that the quarrel began when Jenkins ordered him from the house grabbed his shirt when he sought to get his clothes

Weygand Defense Develops Danger Spots on Flanks

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Allied Generalissimo Weygand's tank-trap battle-line was reported as holding firmly against renewed German attacks this morning, but it had developed two danger-spots yesterday — Nazi progress on both flanks of the offensive sector — to which I draw your special attention

Also in order to keep our perspective it should be noted that while crafty old Weygand thus far has held the enemy successes to low gear in this battle of France the German army isn't yet in full cry Hitler has a lot of power in reserve to throw into the drive

It is well to keep in mind that terrible fighting is ahead and that the Allies certainly will be wading up to their necks in sweat and blood before they get relief from the pressure of the most powerful war machine ever constructed

Now as to those two danger points and we'll avoid technicalities as much as possible One of these developed where the French left flank rested on the coast by the mouth of the Somme at Abbeville

The Germans made a furious assault on the Allies extreme wing by the sea and managed in the face of fierce resistance to drive down the coast 17 miles Much of the fighting here was desperate hand-to-hand work and the defenders held well in view of the stronger mechanized forces opposing them

The second heavy German assault was made in the zone of the Aisne river and carried the invaders to the famous Chemin Des Dames This is a road running along the crest of the hills east of Soissons 60 miles north of Paris and is one of the bulwarks of the capital's defenses

The purpose of the drive on the coast is not only to capture the important port of Le Havre and so erect a further barrier between France and England but to turn the Allied left flank and swing towards Paris At the same time the attack at the Chemin Des Dames is calculated to cut the French line and run a second column towards Paris

In other words we would have those pincers I could be the Allied big pair of pincers And in forces which had been holding that long stretch from the coast to the Aisne river

nd ation that more aircraft would be turned back to the manufacturer and thus although the announcement did not mention the point—be available for sale to the Allies

The reason given for the Aircraft trade in was that improved replacements for the planes were almost ready

Late last year the navy waived delivery on 44 Brewster fighters fully equipped with machine guns to make them available for sale to Finland then battling a Russian invasion

Besides the release of the navy planes there were other developments yesterday which some interpreted as foreshadowing an important determination of policy toward Allied equipment needs

President Roosevelt met with the new national defense commission and when it ended there were signs that final decisions might have been reached One commission member Leon Henderson of the SEC told reporters emphatically that is pretty certain there will be some action

Sale Not Banned

Earlier Secretary Morganthau disclosed that the Allies had sought permission to buy up surplus World war armaments held here Attorney General Jackson rules that sale of the material was not banned by law A final decision in the matter it was said would be up to the president.

Congressional reaction to the navy's plane trade in was divided

Chairman Pittman (D Nev) of the senate foreign relations committee said the government had no control over what was done with the planes once they had been returned to the manufacturer and hence no violation of international law was involved

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) and Reynolds (D N C) disagreed

Senator Pepper (D-Fla) who has been fighting for full assistance to the Allies said the whole nation will applaud this act while Senator Holt (D-W Va) charged that it meant 'just another edging toward a declaration of war

Verrando said all Italian ships were safe

The Italian freighters Arsa Aussa Alberta San Leonado and Brennero are in New York harbor and the Belvedere at Philadelphia

"Constant Parade'

'The movement is a constant parade of young men from 21 to 35 passing on a challenge of work to be done to younger members. The cause of its stupendous growth is the great need of work to be done and young men face that challenge with a reservoir of civic strength

'It is an effective mechanism for utilizing the talent of young men because they enjoy working in company with other young men The revolving leadership provides a never-ending parade of talent, and the power of group action is responsible for the accomplishments of the organization,' Hadley said

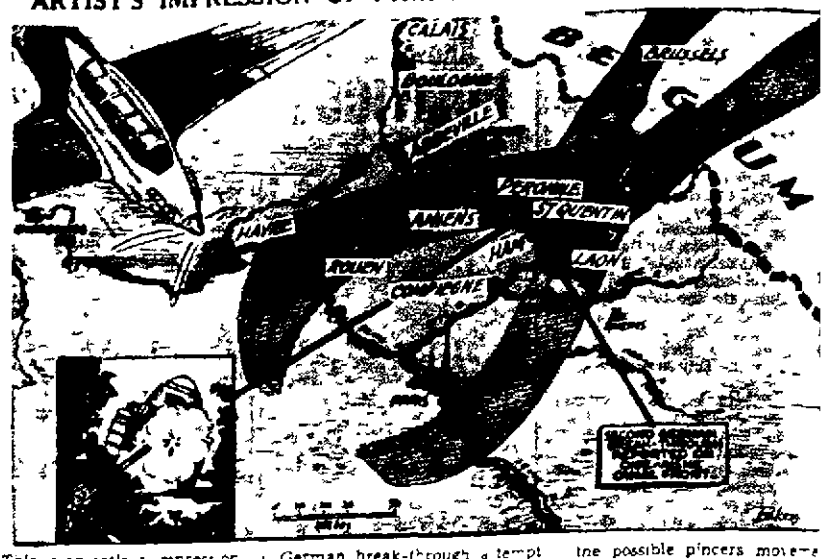
ARTIST'S IMPRESSION OF NAZI PINCERS ON WEST FRONT



This is an artist's impression of the possible pincers movement German break-through attempt at Amiens Abbeville section and expected

NAZI TANKS

but their immediate destination was not known

The British admiralty announced a three mile curfew for merchant vessels around the United Kingodm banned to all ships between sunset and sunrise except in organized convoys, under threat of gunfire

The bearded Poilus of France fighting for every stone and bush and hedge of their homeland found themselves slowly pushed back on both ends of the Somme Aisne front although they made a bold bid to retrieve their eastern flank positions with a charging counter attack up the German held heights of Chemin des Dames

In this eastern region scene of a famous World war battle the Germans advanced six tortuous miles in the second day of the resounding Somme offensive pressing 60 to 70 miles from their evident goal—Paris.

Counter Attack Fiercely

On these new German positions the French launched their counter attack driving up the fiery slopes in a night long conflict On the west flank where German advance forces marched nearly 17 miles from the Abbeville vicinity to the Bresle River along the channel coast the Nazis were within 70 miles of Le Havre but no nearer Paris than before Even in the west however the French said the advance of the main Germany body of infantry was not more than six miles

German dispatches from the front admitted the bitter nature of the French opposition

These German dispatches said it was necessary to watch every cellar window every ruined building every rock and tree and bit of brush for the omni present French machine gun nests and for French troops who dashed out at the German columns with rifle knife and bayonet

While the great battle progressed German bombers stabbed at the British coast in the early morning for the second time in 24 hours The British said several persons were hurt but minimized damage done in the sweeping raids along a 250-mile seaboard

Heavy explosions and anti aircraft fire were heard to the south of Paris, and a 33-minute air raid alarm was sounded in the capital itself this morning beginning at 5 12 a m (1 12 p m Thursday Marion time)

Italians waited for Premier Mussolini's evaluation of an apparent friendly gesture by Frances Premier Paul Reynaud The Reynaud suggestion in an address that divergences of interests could be settled by peaceful means—without naming Italy directly—was described by one well informed Fascist as very important He said that Mussolini's reaction was the only important one in Italy

A possibly significant development in the United States was the trading-in by the navy of 50 planes to the manufacturer for credit on new planes for future delivery The trade-ins thus became available for sale to the Allies

NEW AA RECORD

The American association was believed to have set some sort of a minor league record in extra inning games on April 26 when a total of 51 innings was put on the league books in four games. Only one game could be settled in the regulation nine innings. The longest went 18 rounds.

BERLIN SAYS BREAKS ALONG ENTIRE LINE

By The Associated Press

BERLIN June 7 — The German high command declared today the the Weygand line has been broken through on the entire front

Its terse communique following Nazi acknowledgement that the offensive toward Paris had run into stiff resistance on the Allies new defense line offered no details

Unusually brief it devoted only two sentences to the great battle in France

Operations of the army and air force south of the river Somme and the Aisne Oise canal are successfully progressing according to plan

The Weygand line was broken through on the entire front

Brief mention of the announcement its only report on the current battle were of successful bombing raids on British air bases last night of Allied air losses of 74 planes against nine German planes and of the sinking of an Allied speedboat off the coast of northern France

As Nazis procured the battle situation on the German left wing was being held almost stationary while the right flank presses down the coast apparently toward Dieppe and Le Havre in an attempt to break the Allies shortest communications line

SPEED SESSION TOWARD CLOSE

President Reported Wanting Congress Adjournment in Two Weeks.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 7 — Administration lieutenants on Capitol Hill expressed belief today that President Roosevelt would take active steps to hasten his legislative program and bring about congressional adjournment in two weeks

The President, they said, is aware that the defense tax bill constitutes the greatest obstacle to a prompt windup of the session

Seeking to head off time-consuming amendments to this legislation the Chief Executive was reported by Senator Lee (D-Okla) to be opposed to submission this summer of Lee's plan to draft private capital in wartime

Because of Mr Roosevelt's stand Lee said he would not seek action on his proposal Other senators said the President might suggest that further controversial financial programs should be withheld until the next session

The house neared the end of debate on amendments to the Wagner labor act with both sides agreeing that a restatement of the position of the American Federation of Labor would increase greatly the chances of approving major revisions

President William Green of the AFL sent a letter to Rep Smith (D Va) which said that taken as a whole the 17 amendments sponsored by Smith's investigating committee would help remedy what he called excesses and abuses of the national labor board But he expressed opposition to four of the proposals

A majority of Smith's committee has proposed creation of a new three man labor board separation of its administrative and judicial functions and establishment of certain safeguards for craft unions and employers

The house labor committee recommended only four changes one of which would add two members to the present three man agency

Green expressed opposition to the Smith committee amendments to redefine the purposes of the act and the definition of collective bargaining to limit back pay awards to six months and to require the labor board to disregard cases where there was a conflict between unions over which should represent workers

The CIO has opposed all the Smith revisions

LITTLE SCORES A 69 TO TAKE GOLF LEAD

Wind Whips Course in Second Round Play.

By The Associated Press

CANTERBURY GOLF COURSE, CLEVELAND June 7—A heavy wind storm struck the open golf championship course this afternoon nearly tearing the tents loose sending spectators scurrying for shelter and promising grief for players who had not finished their second rounds

Lawson Little already had come in with a 69 for a leading two round total of 141 but Sam Snead Ben Hogan and most of the other top notchers were caught by the gale Snead who shot a record-breaking 67 yesterday already had gone one over par on the first three holes today taking a 4 on the short third Hogan who shot a 70 yesterday had just turned the ninth hole in 35 when the wind hit

Little came in with a brilliant three under par total of 36-33—69 to take sole possession of second temporary second round leadership

Little who equaled Canterbury's par of yesterday's matched par figures on today's first nine to come home with a blazing 33

Two of the amateurs ranking stars Johnny Demaret of Houston and Claxton Heafner the big Carolinian came up their cards on the second round and quit in disgust Demaret outstanding star of the season to win the open recently shot an 81 today but refused to sign the card to make it official

Heafner who didn't like the course at all originally ripped up his card after going out in 38 and shooting a straight fours on the way in

Old Man Mose and Jimmie Foxx Unite To Give Bosox 3-1 Win Over Brownies

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jimmie Foxx and Lefty Grove who have been performing feats of baseball magic these many years still can lift a rabbit out of a hat when occasion demands

Occasion demanded yesterday and these two long-time associates beat the St Louis Browns 3-1 to preserve the Boston Red Sox' shaky half game grip on the American league lead

Grove has been tottering for weeks as a starting pitcher And when he stiffened the slugging Browns on six hits in this one he still was on the verge of losing 1 0 because one of the hits was a home run by Chet Laabs

Then Foxx who had shared Groves glory for years came to bat in the ninth inning with two on and two out and poled out his 14th homer of the season to win the game

Bildilli Bad

It was a bitter break for Emil Bildilli the young southpaw who shut out Boston for eight innings

The Cleveland Indians were poised to take over the lead if Boston had been beaten The Tribe beat the Washington Senators 5 4 in 11 innings

In the National league the Brooklyn Dodgers nursed a new winning streak to five games and moved within a game of the pace-setting Cincinnati Reds by caging the St Louis Cardinals 9 5

The Pittsburgh Pirates battled the Boston Bees into a tie for the cellar spot with a 7-6 triumph

The Chicago Cubs set off their biggest hitting fireworks of the season to trounce the Phillies 11-5 Among the Bruins 17 hits were two homers by Bill Nicholson and three consecutive doubles by Phil Cavarretta

Yanks, Tigers Lose

The world champion New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers both were out rallied

Pitcher Buck Ross hit a two-run homer as the Philadelphia Athletics nicked Buck Newsom for three runs in the third Then Detroit batted Ross out of the box in the eighth only to have the As score three more runs in the last half of the same inning and win 7-4

The Chicago White Sox were held to three hits by Spud Chandler for eight innings but got three more and the ball game 4 3 with a two-run uprising in the ninth

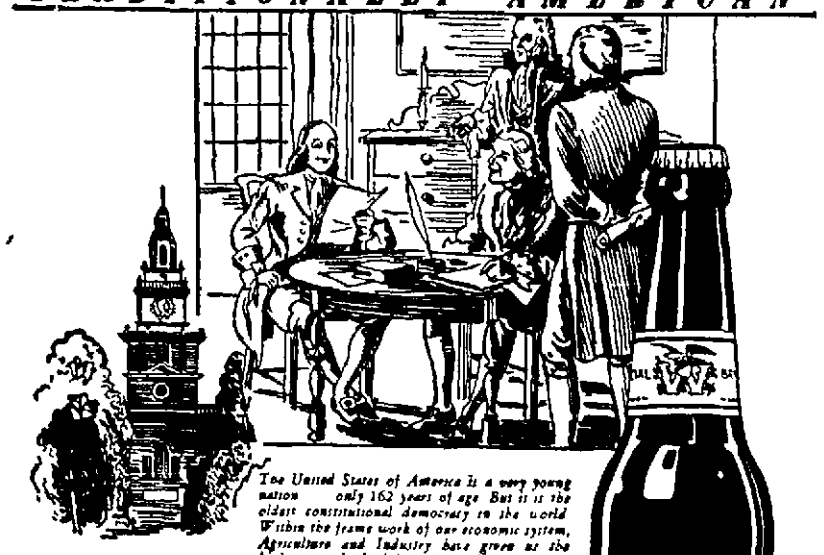
TRADITIONALLY AMERICAN



The United States of America is a very young nation only 162 years of age But it is the oldest constitutional democracy in the world Within the framework of our economic system, Agriculture and Industry have given us the highest standard of living ever known

The tradition of Wiedemann's Beer extends back over nearly half the years of the nation's independence George Wiedemann brewed the first cask of Wiedemann's beer in 1870 Four generations of his family have continued the business, using his original formula, following out the fine traditions that he established That's the reason Wiedemann's is called for in thousands of American homes where it has been a favorite for almost three quarters of a century Ask for Wiedemann's by name

Ali Baba in All-Star Cast Booked for Wrestling Show

"Turrible Turk" To Meet Fred Carone; Show To Be Held Outdoors, Weather Permitting.

An all-star cast, from the preliminary through the main go, has been booked by local promoters for Monday night's wrestling show.

The line-up is:

Ali Baba, the Turrible Turk, vs. Fred Carone of Italy, in a 90-minute final scrap.

Paavo Ketonen of Findland vs. Stacey Hall of Columbus, in a 45-minute semi-windup.

Frankie Wolfe of Australia vs. Jimmy Heffner of Sherman, Tex., in the 20-minute prelim.

The card, weather permitting, will be staged at the outdoor arena. However, in the event of inclement weather, the matches will be staged as usual in the Marion Steam Shovel arena.

The show looms as one which should lure plenty of cash customers through the turnstiles. It not only features the return of Stacey Hall but brings to Marion for the first time the famous Ali Baba, one of the legendary figures of the professional mat world.

Ali Baba's Debut

The debut of Ali Baba should attract considerable attention. The Turk, something of a mighty atom, is a five-foot, six-inch stick of walking dynamite. He lays claim to the heavyweight title of the world and among the claimants he's the smallest ever to try to fit under the mighty crown. Ali Baba has been a consistent headliner in the metropolitan centers. He's a veteran and there are many local people who may remember his title bout with Everett Marshall in nearby Columbus.

He will have a husky sparmate in the Italian, Fred Carone. It won't be Fred's first trip in and regular fans may remember the son of Mussolini-land for the tough egg that he is. Their heavyweight match is carded for 90 minutes, two falls deciding the winner.

Ketonan's visit should attract considerable attention. He's a powerful ringster who has done well for himself in the ranks of the pro grappling artists. The Finnish warrior has been a consistent headliner in recent metropolitan cards and should provide Hall with a first rate test.

Hall, who hails from Columbus, is a former Ohio State university athlete. He's been going great guns, particularly in Ohio's capital city, where he has built up considerable following among rabid followers of the Scarlet and Gray.

Both of the grapplers billed in the prelim have been here previously and need little introduction to local mat-goers.

New Gate Tricks Short Ship Drivers

Ohio Short Ship circuit harness racing drivers may be expected to pay close attention to their timing when they move into Marion next Tuesday night, according to word from the railbirds at Lancaster, where the sulky campaign is being waged this week.

Seven drivers were set down and five fined for beating the starter under the new McNamara barrier system during yesterday's opening session, The Associated Press reported.

Dr. Hugh M. Parshall of Urbana, the nation's top money-winning driver, paced Symbol Prince, brown gelding owned by B. C. Mayo of Tarboro, N. C., to victory in the $600 feature trophy event. Symbol Prince was first in two of three heats.

Head For Marion

The bevy of leading drivers on hand at Lancaster, together with their entourages, will begin an exodus tomorrow and Sunday, which will lead them straight to the Marion county fairgrounds. The horses and equipment will be brought here in a caravan of trucks.

Those racing today are expected to be shipped from Lancaster Saturday while those entered in tomorrow's competition will come here Sunday.

Two stables are already on hand at the fairgrounds and by race time Tuesday at 8 p. m., more than 200 head of horses will be quartered here, officials predicted. W. S. Callahan of Tiffin shipped three horses here early this week. Callie G. one of the 16 nominees for the $1,000 free-for-all trot, Wednesday night. Two other Callahan horses have been named, Betty Scott for the 2:23 pace and Single Girl for the 3:17 pace.

Six horses comprising the R. H. Johnson stable from Charlotte, N. C., arrived yesterday. They include Ed Lasater, entered in the free-for-all trot; Mada Guy, 2:24 trot, Edith S, three-year-old trot; Carfare Grattan, 2:17 pace and several class horses.

North Carolinan Lee Smith is the trainer and driver for the Johnson stable.

Plans Move Ahead

Frank Foster, racing secretary, and official of the Women's Board of Marion City hospital reported today that preparations for the four-night program are entering the final stages. The track is in excellent shape and yesterday workmen of the Marion-Reserve Power Co., installed bulbs in the lighting fixtures and testing equipment. Men have been set to work with mowers to clip the sodded infield and grounds about the entrance, while others are giving the grandstand a complete housecleaning.

Farm Bureau Head At 60 Still Has No Time for Golf

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 7—Imagine a stocky-gray-haired man whose lifelong hobby has been "good farming" confessing that he would like to take up golf if he "had the time."

That's Perry Green, ruddy-cheeked, 60-year-old president of the Ohio Farm bureau. He has managed to crowd farming, 10 years as a member of the legislature, a term as state agricultural director under former Gov. Myers Y. Cooper, and six years as Farm Bureau head into his busy life, but not golf—yet.

He doesn't say that his family's accomplishments are a hobby, but he's rather proud of them.

There's Mrs. Mabel Green, his wife who remains at their Hiram farm home most of the time. A direct descendant of John and Priscilla Alden of Pilgrim Fame, Mrs. Green has been a leader in Portage county parent-teacher, church, farm and club activity.

Daughter Naomi, a textile chemist, is preparing to become a physician. Oldest son, Alden is the farmer and his father's partner. Casper, now a teacher of English in Puerto Rico, is studying to enter the diplomatic service. Edward, the youngest, will be graduated from Hiram college this year, majoring in economics.

Father Green lacked a few months of being graduated from Hiram when a hardware firm job in Cleveland appeared too good to ignore. Three years later, Green returned to his Hiram farm. There he stayed until the Farm Bureau called him to head its 22,000 member families.

Now he's trying to sell the idea that rural cooperatives are not trying to hurt private business.

"The farmer's long-time problem, is by his self-exercised economic pressure, to bring down prices of things he has to buy to the level of the things he has to sell," Green says.

"Farm cooperatives for purchasing are his only economic means of doing that. We must also use political power to elevate our own prices and curb monopolistic control of prices."

Farm bureau cooperatives provide insurance, credit, marketing and purchasing aids to their members.

Wooster Man Dedicates New Park Lighting System.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, June 7—The second annual spring festival continued through Thursday and today with the final program set for tonight when a grand parade will be featured. Dedication of the new ball park lighting system at Harrison Smith park was conducted Thursday night with John McSweeney of Wooster giving the dedicatory address.

Floren Long of Eden won the first Wyandot county marble tournament defeating Jack Dudley of Nevada 7 to 1 in the final game. His previous scores were 7 to 0 over Junior Gibson of Wharton; 7 to 0 over Donald Dunn of Carey and 7 to 5 over Dudley in a earlier game. Dudley had previously defeated Edison Noblit of McCutchenville, 7 to 0, and James Simonis of Carey, 7 to 0.

Wednesday evening's program was broadcast over a hookup radio station WHKC of Columbus with Bob French of Columbus dedicating the new Wyandot Safety League recreational hall here. Other speakers on the program were Mayor John W. Milligan, Attorney A. K. Hall, Nelson J. Rall and W. C. A. Bickham.

Thursday's program continued with a festival during the afternoon and evening at Harrison Smith park. Dedication of the ball park lighting system was conducted at 8:30 p. m.

Today's program will open at 5:30 with a band festival under the sponsorship of the Band Mothers club. The parade will be staged at 7 o'clock this evening to be followed at 9 o'clock by a concert by the Upper Sandusky High school band on the courthouse lawn. A grand ball will be held at the Wyandot Safety League recreational center at 9 o'clock with music being provided by Clarence Knisley's orchestra of Columbus. Also at 8 o'clock the Marion and Upper Sandusky Eagles will meet in a soft ball game under the lights at the park.

EAGLES TO PRACTICE

The Eagles baseball team will hold a practice session Saturday at 1 p. m. at Lincoln park. Sunday they will journey to Sycamore for a game. The last time these two teams met they were washed out by rain at the end of five innings with the score 9-0.

EMULATES HUBBY

Gene Root, pro at Borger, Tex., shot at 89 to set a new men's record for the course. Two days later Mrs. Gene Root came along with an 88 to chop a stroke off the club's women's record, which she already held.

BUYING SUPPORT LIFTS WHEAT PRICE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 7—War news which some traders interpreted and reports of spread of smut in soft winter wheat gave the wheat market enough buying support today to lift prices more than a cent

Strength in securities and some purchasing credited to northwestern flour interests as well as decided belief of weather in spring wheat areas believed to be favorable for spread of black rust also encouraged bears

Wheat closed 1¼@1⅝ cents higher than yesterday July $1.00 September 81⅝@⅞ corn ran hanged to ⅜ up July 63⅛@½ September 61⅛@⅝ oats unchanged to ⅜ higher

STOCKS GAIN 1 TO 2 POINTS

Traders More Optimistic Despite Italy's Order Clearing Seas of Ships.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 7.—Traders garnered a bit of optimism from the war news and sent stock prices one to two points higher.

Evidence that recent sell-offs had discounted the likelihood of Italy entering the war was seen in the bearish reaction to the order holding Italian ships in port.

Among gainers were U S Steel Bethlehem, National Steel, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck Douglas, Lockheed United Aircraft Du Pont, Allied Chemical Westinghouse, American Telephone International Nickel and Anaconda.

Bonds and commodities gained in light dealings.

The weekly Ward's report showed that automobile companies had shoved their production up to 93 160 units compared with 60 980 last week and 65 365 a year ago.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday June 8

AN UNUSUAL set of circumstances and events may contribute to make this an interesting and successful day. New as well as unique or peculiar interests may claim the attention and within a degree of success, although an indulgence in reckless impatient and impulsive conduct may offset or undermine the most progressive efforts and original plans.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for an unusual or strange turn of events with much success and progress arising from change innovations or unorthodox methods of ideas. But these might be jeopardized by indulgence in rash hasty or impetuous moves or too strenuous attack. Confer with superiors or with those powerful in lodges politics or secret organizations. Kindred subtleties and activities may be expected in social or emotional life.

A child born on this day should be energetic enterprising original and creative in out-of-ordinary lines perhaps in artistic intellectual or dramatic composition. While bold and audacious it may be subtle mysterious and have much intuition and imagination.

There are more kinds of trees in the Great Smoky Mountains National park than in all of Europe.
